

Supporting Women's Empowerment with the Academy for Women Entrepreneurs (AWE)

Project Title	Supporting Women's Empowerment with the Academy for Women Entrepreneurs (AWE)
Project Summary	Research and identify online educational resources for women in the process of becoming entrepreneurs that would contribute to individual business growth and network development.
Country	United States
Country/Region of Focus	Global

Project Description

The Academy for Women Entrepreneurs is an inclusive learning community centered around DreamBuilder, an online training program on women's entrepreneurship developed through a partnership between Arizona State University's Thunderbird School of Management and global copper mining company Freeport-McMoRan. Women with brilliant ideas engage in U.S-style education with guided facilitation and from local alumni, women business leaders, and key interlocutors to ensure business development. Resources will be shared on the program website and highlighted to diverse countries around the world promoting entrepreneurship. Engage with Bureau of Educational and Cultural Affairs (ECA) diplomats and program officers to conduct outreach to potential partner organizations while providing technical support to AWE program implementing partners overseas.
